

Nashville Event Update – Monday, July 27, 2020

We are reaching out to make sure you are aware of the now rescheduled 2020 U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame Game, originally scheduled to be played in Nashville, Tennessee.

- The 2020 event is now scheduled to be played at Ralph Engelstad Arena in Grand Forks on Saturday, October 17, 2020
- The 2021 event will be at Bridgestone Arena in Nashville on Saturday, October 30, 2021
- The tickets that you bought for the original 2020 event will remain valid for the rescheduled 2021 Nashville game
 - Your current Nashville tickets will be automatically updated for the 2021 game

We understand that you might not be able to make it to Nashville in 2021 and we are offering ticket refunds now through August 14, 2020. Once August 14, 2020 comes and goes, all ticket purchases are final and cannot be refunded. To be eligible for a ticket refund, you must have purchased your tickets through Ticketmaster and not have transferred, posted or sold them. If tickets were transferred to you, you will need to transfer them back to the original purchaser in order for the original purchaser to take advantage of the refund option available through August 14, 2020.

For those who may have missed out on the opportunity to purchase game tickets or Wildhorse Saloon event tickets for either of the sold-out events during the Nashville event weekend, now is the time to act. As refunds are processed for those who are choosing not to attend the rescheduled events, ticket inventory for both the 2021 game and the 2021 Wildhorse Saloon event are now being made available for purchase on a first-come-first served basis. For game tickets, visit www.ticketmaster.com (game tickets link) and for Wildhorse tickets, visit www.ticketmaster.com (Wildhorse link). There will be a limit of 8 tickets per person on all new orders, but you can certainly purchase additional tickets, even if you already have tickets or previously met your Champions Club maximum ticket allotment. The best advice that we can give you is to check the Ticketmaster website frequently as refunded tickets will be made available for sale as each refund is processed. All tickets must be purchased directly through www.ticketmaster.com.

Ticketing plans and other event operational plans are still being developed to create a new ticketed event for the 2020 Hall of Fame Game event in Grand Forks on Saturday, October 17, 2020. Ticket information for the October 17, 2020 event at Ralph Engelstad Arena will be released as soon as details are confirmed. UND Hockey season ticket holders for the 2020-2021 season will have first right of refusal on seats in their season ticket packages for the new October 17, 2020 home game.
