

As the cold winter weather bares down on the Northern Plains, my thoughts turn to the Honky Tonks of Lower Broadway, Nashville hot chicken, and unmatched Southern hospitality!

Just a quick note to confirm that we continue advancing event plans for the 2021 U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame Game in Nashville, Tennessee. We are absolutely forging ahead with event plans for game day on Saturday, October 30, 2021. Puck drop is scheduled for 7:07 pm at Bridgestone Arena in Music City, U.S.A.

We remain in constant contact with event, civic, hospitality and tourism representatives in Nashville and we're all working from the same sheet of country music; we're all focused on creating a once-in-a-lifetime fan experience in Nashville in October.

We'll continue to update you moving forward as new information and new elements of the event plan are confirmed, but for now, we just wanted to reach out and let you know that we continue to work towards our October 2021 event, While we continue to monitor the evolving pandemic, we're absolutely planning on a sea of UND-green in Nashville in October and remain optimistic that conditions will allow the type of event we all seek!

Please email us at Nashville@theralph.com should you have any questions about the 2021 U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame Game.

Stay safe and stay warm!

Sincerely,
Jody Hodgson
