REA Now Hiring and Scheduling For Upcoming 2023 Season

Grand Forks, ND / July 17, 2023: It is the offseason, but the University of North Dakota athletics season is closer than you might think. To that end, Ralph Engelstad Arena is looking to lock in workers for the coming season.

REA is now accepting part-time position applications from individuals for game-day roles in guest services, concessions, custodial, parking and a variety of other positions. New for this season is most positions start at $16/hour. Those interested in working at The Ralph can apply online at theralph.com/workattheralph.

REA is also seeking volunteer groups to help with concession and custodial opportunities on game nights. Church groups, college and high school athletic teams and organizations, booster clubs and volunteer fire departments are examples of groups that successfully raise funds for their programs.

Interested nonprofit groups can visit theralph.com/workattheralph/non-profits for more information and to sign up.
